Abundance vs. Need

You are invited to join our Adults 50+ group of volunteers on a week-long mission trip to Dinuba, California.

"Cull" fruit is produce which cannot be sold and often goes to waste. There are many people in our own country and around the world that do not have enough food. Gleanings for the Hungry is a ministry that works to fill that need with cull fruit.

In the summer, volunteers help process dried fruit for shipment in buckets. In the Fall, volunteers work an assembly line to package soup mix and help make quilts.

Other work duties may include shop and yard maintenance, painting, mailings, kitchen work and house-keeping chores.

How much does it cost?

This is a nonprofit organization. We ask volunteers to give a minimum $100 donation for 6-days of food and accommodation and help them to continue supporting and supplying for those in need.

Housing?

Air conditioned bungalows are available for couples, families, and singles. RV hook-ups are also available for those who desire to bring their trailers or Recreational Vehicles.

Additional questions?

An early October date will be set to discuss details of this powerful mission experience.
